WALCOTT SAYS HE'S CHAMP

STORIES ON PAGES 18, 19 AND 23

The Champ Is Downed—A vicious right hand punch to the head tumbles Champion Joe Louis to the canvas in the fourth round of his 15-round championship bout with Jersey Joe Walcott in Madison Sq. Garden. Joe stayed on the canvas until the count of seven. Referee Ruby Goldstein (rear), rushed to begin count. He gave the decision to the challenger at the end of fight which saw Louis battered and bleeding from the terrific hammering he received. But Louis retained his title on a split decision. Truman Hits Loss of Water Power

EVERGLADES CITY, Fla., Dec. 6 (AP)—President Truman called today for constant vigilance in developing the nation's resources to prevent raids by destructive influences bent on exploiting "our common heritage for their private gain," and linked conservation to world order and peace. He condemned wasting of minerals by careless mining, the waste of forests by careless lumbering and the wasting of water "through failure to build hydroelectric plants."

The President said he was comforted by the knowledge that "as always in the past, when the people's property has been threatened, men and women whose primary concern has been their country's welfare have risen to oppose 'selfish attacks.'"

GIFT FROM INDIANS

The President arrived at this tiny town in the midst of the Florida Everglades to join festivities marking the dedication of the Everglades National Park.

Nearly 100 Florida Seminole Indians—one-seventh of the entire tribe—looked upon a President of the United States for the first time and stolidly presented him with a gaily colored tribal shirt. But the aloof, proud tribesmen, losers of a war with the United States a century ago, declined to make the Chief Executive an honorary member of the tribe, an honor accorded no white man.

The President flew from Boca Chica Naval Air Station, near Key West, to land at an abandoned Army air station at Naples, Fla., where he was greeted by Gov. Millard F. Caldwell, Florida Sens. Pepper and Holland, and Sen. Johnson (D.) of Colorado.

Mr. Truman interrupted a five-day vacation at Key West to make the major address at the ceremonies in which Gov. Caldwell handed over title to 454,000 acres of the Florida Everglades to Interior Sec. Krug for establishment of America's 28th national park. Krug introduced the President.

CITES DESTRUCTION

Without mentioning names, the Chief Executive declared:

"Public lands and parks, our forests and our mineral reserves, are subject to many destructive influences. We have to remain constantly vigilant to prevent raids by those who would selfishly exploit our common heritage for their private gain. Such raids on our national resources are not examples of interest and initiative. They are attempts to take from all the people for the benefit of the few."

For the most part, the President devoted his speech to a statement of his advocacy of the development of hydroelectric power and other energy resources along with parks, playgrounds and soil resources.

In the establishment of the 454,000-acre Everglades reserve as a national park, Mr. Truman said, "We have permanently safeguarded an irreplaceable primitive area," the national benefits of which "will outlast the youngest of us."

The President said the "wise use of our national resources" is the foundation of the nation's effectiveness in its efforts to maintain the spirit of its citizens, provide a good living for its people in industry, business and farming and bringing "intelligent recognition by its citizens of its responsibility for world order, world peace, and world recovery."

Siamese Operation Hinges on X-Rays

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 6 (AP)—Physicians at Riley hospital planned to try again today to get clear X-ray pictures of the brains of the week-old Speer babies, Siamese twins whose bodies are joined at the top of their heads.

Dr. Donald Casely, medical director of the Indiana University medical center, said that if the baby boys had connecting brain tissue there would be little chance of separating them by surgery.

The babies were reported "possibly gaining a little strength," although the three-inch bone connection forces them to lie in line, with their legs pointed in opposite directions.

The babies, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Speer of Bedford, were born at Bedford last Saturday.

BUT IT WAS LOADED

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 6 (AP)—Mrs. Edna Hansen, 39, of Portland, remarked she had never had a gun in her hand, so Samuel R. Ferry gave her one to inspect.

Detective Floyd Hutchins said Mrs. Hansen told him Ferry got the gun from his room, and told her, "Go ahead, pull the trigger. It's not loaded."

He died almost instantly of a bullet wound in the abdomen. Police today listed the death as accidental.

Commie-Led Romans Give Ultimatum

ROME, Dec. 6 (AP)—Communist-led Rome workers today gave the Italian government three days to accede to their demands for employment and for punishment of police who "fired on men, women and babies" in bloody disorders last night at the capital's gates.

Implied was the threat of a general strike if the terms were not met.

The demands came from the newly-organized Workers' High Command for the Capital and Rome Province, the existence of which was announced in today's leftist press along with its demands.

The organization's name was given as the "Provincial Committee of Congress of Management and of Internal Commissions."

The new-born committee's first act was to publish a bitter communique denouncing police action in the slum suburb of Primitale yesterday, when a worker was killed in street fighting with police.

"The submachine guns of the government of plutocrats have struck men, women and children indiscriminately," the Communist paper L'Unita declared.

The story, which appeared under the headline, "ultimatum to the government which fires on unemployed," concentrated its wrath on Premier Alcide De Gasperi and Interior Minister Mario Scelba (who commands Italy's police) and the new mayor of Rome, Salvatore Rebecchini.

The two papers said 70,000 unemployed had gathered in the slums of Primitale yesterday and charged the government with "bestial brutality" in breaking up the demonstration.

One workman died of a gun-shot wound, several other demonstrators were injured, 10 police were hurt, one lieutenant seriously.

3 More Jews Slain, New Palestine Fires

JERUSALEM, Dec. 6 (AP)—Violence erupted anew today in the tense borderland between Arab Jaffa and Jewish Tel Aviv. Three Jews were killed.

A communique from the Jewish underground army Hagana charged the Palestine police with turning an armored car on the Jews, killing a small child and wounding a woman. It said one member of Hagana had been killed by British troops.

The communique said the situation was "worsening" in the borderland area. Fires flared from three or four small Jewish homes and observers said general panic prevailed in the Hatikvah and Jacob quarters.

Three Jewish dead and two wounded were brought to a Tel Aviv hospital from the trouble area, one of the worst hit spots in Palestine since the start of Arab-Jews riots stemming from Arab resentment over the United Nations decisions to partition the Holy Land.

CHARGE INTERFERENCE

Hagana charged that two police armored cars had fired into Jewish homes and added that the police had been given orders to "shoot to kill."

The count of deaths since the partition vote in the United Nations last Saturday night rose to 31 Jews, 23 Arabs and two Armenians.

The Hagana member killed today was identified as Jacob Schiff, a group commander. Jewish informants said he was slain by police who entered a house where the Hagana members had been lodged in the Hatikvah quarter. Eight members of Hagana were arrested, the informants added.

Hagana accused the police of hampering Jewish security forces and said Hagana members were arrested for distributing leaflets printed in Arabic appealing for a halt to mob violence.

DEATH TOLL PASSES 110

The chattering of guns, exploding of bombs and fire in the trouble area brought an abrupt end to a short-lived lull on the Holy Land Sabbath.

Earlier in downtown Jerusalem thousands of angry Jews swarmed into Jaffa road and stoned Arab vehicles in retaliation for attacks on Jewish buses.

Several Arabs were injured. Arabs said a number of their countrymen alighted from a bus with "blood streaming down their faces."

By early afternoon police and Hagana succeeded in dispersing angry Jews in Zion square and sullen peace was restored. All traffic was stopped in streets littered with stones and glass.

The stoning began in Jerusalem after a Jewish ambulance passed. Jewish sources said the crowds became angry at reports that three Jews had been stabbed near a burned out theater.

This week's death toll in the entire Middle East stood at 110 and damage mounted into the millions of dollars.

Eire Joins British Anti-Crisis Plan

DUBLIN, Dec. 6 (AP)—Eire followed Britain's anti-crisis lead today—part of the way—with gasoline cuts, travel restrictions, and a tightening in exchange regulations.

The government announced last night that after Jan. 1 Irishmen will get eight gallons of gasoline a month instead of 10 for noncommercial cars, with commercial cars, taxis and public transportation not affected. The British get none for pleasure driving.

After June 30 Irishmen cannot go to France, Italy or the Netherlands except for these reasons: Health, business, education, a pilgrimage, or visits to relatives or friends. Britons can go abroad only if they keep their expenditures under five pounds ($20)—except under special permits for business men seeking export markets.

60 Extra Police To Haunt Parkers

Deputy Police Supt. James J. Hinchey announced today that 60 extra officers would go on duty Monday with the traffic squad for an all-out drive against parking violators in restricted streets of the downtown area.

Hinchey said many cars were being parked on both sides of streets where parking was forbidden or allowed on only one side. The illegal parking, he said, was hampering the flow of Christmas shopping traffic.

Brother Says Irwin Had $20,000 Cash

Eugene P. Irwin, Jr., wealthy 32-year-old Dorchester car dealer, who vanished Thursday under circumstances indicating he was kidnaped—possibly murdered—was carrying approximately $20,000, not $10,000 as originally believed, when he dropped from sight, it was revealed today by his brother, Atty. John A. Irwin.

Another development was a declaration to police by a Quincy suspect that if they turned him loose he could "do more for Irwin" than they could do.

"If I get out, I'll probably get a telephone call," they quoted him as saying.

It was he, according to police, who drove Irwin to a mysterious rendezvous with a car-seller identified as "Dave Andrews," in Post Office sq., where the Dorchester man disappeared.

Irwin's brother, who reiterated a conviction the missing man had been murdered for the money in his pockets, said:

"I'm positive he had up to $20,000 on him. The day before he vanished he had four checks in his pocket. He didn't deposit them. He cashed them. One was for $4000, another for $4000, a third for $2000, and the fourth for $500."

"In addition," went on the lawyer, "he went to the National Shawmut Bank and withdrew a sum of money. It all adds up to about $20,000."

The man in police custody was taken to Dorchester court on a warrant charging non-support of his wife, a Dorchester woman. There he created excitement before Judge William Lynch came into the room. The defendant saw his wife sitting in the front row and beckoned her to come to him in the dock. She averted her eyes.

SHOUTS TO OFFICER

He shouted to William Martin, a court officer:

"If I blew my top I am coming out of this box and no one can stop me."

Martin strode to his desk, took out a police club and summoned Sgt. Thomas McDonough, but the man recanted with:

"Don't worry, officer, I won't get excited."

Later he remained silent when asked how he would plead. Judge Lynch ordered a not guilty plea entered, held him in $1000 and continued the case to Dec. 13. Police had asked much higher bail.

In the lineup he told Sgt. Mark Madden:

"No more foolish questions. I've answered questions for about a hundred cops and there is no reason for my telling you more. I've told you all I know. I'm not going to do any talking until I get a lawyer."

However, police said, he had previously admitted acting as Irwin's driver on the fateful Thursday. His story, they said, was that he had met Irwin by appointment at a filling station opposite the South Station, at the corner of Atlantic ave. and Summer st.

UNEASY ABOUT DEAL

Investigation has shown that up to this point Irwin had been accompanied by a trusted employee, William Cavanaugh of Dorchester, whom he had asked along because of "uneasiness" over the deal. Cavanaugh became separated from the man when he parked his car.

The suspect, according to police, related he had driven his own automobile to the meeting place. He said he took Irwin to Postoffice sq. to meet the mysterious "Dave Andrews."

There, they entered the lobby of No. 10, each using a different door, but "Andrews" was not in sight. The suspect said he and Irwin went back to the automobile and saw where they could see anyone going into the building from that point.

While they were in the car, he continued, a traffic officer came over and told them to move because they were in a restricted parking area.

The suspect said he had given Irwin a complete description of "Andrews," so Irwin got out of the car and headed toward the building. Then, added the suspect, he drove off to avoid getting a parking ticket and did not see Irwin again.

Mercury Due To Take Drop On Week-End

A fair but cold week-end was forecast for Massachusetts today by the Weather Bureau following the storm which cloaked New England in four inches of snow, making roads and sidewalks icy traps.

Plows were still clearing main-line roads around Boston and sand trucks were held in readiness to cope with icing. Flight schedules from Logan airport canceled last night—disappointing many "big fight" fans—were due to be resumed at noon.

Day temperatures in the Boston area will remain today and Sunday in the mid-30's with the mercury dropping to 19 degrees at night. Apart from light flurries no more snow is expected over the week-end.

A heavy toll of automobile and pedestrian accidents followed in the wake of the storm and 19 persons were treated at City Hospital for injuries resulting from falls.

The Coast Guard also reported a flood of emergencies following the storm. Patrick O'Shea, a crew of the Boston trawler Lark who had slipped on the icy decks, was transferred at sea to a rescue ship and taken to Provincetown harbor.

Mother Saves Two, Dies in Fire With 3d

ROXBURY, Me., Dec. 6—A 27-year-old mother saved the lives of two of her children, then died heroically in her flaming home today in a desperate and futile effort to rescue

Abandoned Baby Girl Gaining

"Miss Z," abandoned to fate in a thin sheet and towel a few hours after she was born nine days ago, was on the road to a healthy, if not happy, life today as her name, such as it is, was removed from the danger list in Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Doctors at the hospital, behind which she was found in the rear seat of a car by Miss Mary L. Crain, medical supervisor, said the infant has gained 10 ounces. Now at 6 pounds 10 ounces, she has been removed from the incubator.

Police were still without a clue to the mother's identity.

LATER RENT OFFICE HOURS

William F. Riley, area rent director for eastern Massachusetts, announced today his office will not be open to the public until 10:30 a. m. daily to give office help time to catch up on delayed work.

an infant daughter. Victims of the blaze were Mrs. Charles Greenwood and her 9-month-old daughter, Mabel, who perished as the house became a seething mass of flames after she had tossed two of her daughters through an upstairs window into the arms of her uncle, Carl Shatney.

Shatney said he was prevented from entering the door of the house by flames. He climbed to the roof of a shed adjoining the house but by the time he reached the window the young mother had disappeared in the flames.

She could have clambered from the window to the roof of the shed and escaped. But she refused to leave without the baby.

Mrs. Greenwood's husband, a woodsman, was absent at work when the fire started, apparently from an overheated stove.

Shatney, who lives in a camp a short distance from the house, was awakened by his niece, who shouted:

"The house is afire, come quick, help."

He rushed to the house and saw her standing at an upstairs window. She tossed out Margaret, 3, and Martha, 2, to him and then told him she was going to the first floor to get the baby from her crib.

He tried to get in the front door but was driven back by sheets of flame. Then he clambered to the shed roof and reached the window but could see no trace of the mother or her child.

The daughter, Margaret, was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor, neighbors of the Greenwoods. Martha, who suffered minor burns of the face and arms, was taken to Rumford Community Hospital for treatment.

French Anti-Strike Law Passes House; Wide Police Power

The bill, which heavily increases punishment for sabotage and sets up penalties for persons inciting strikes or keeping them going, was approved by the National Assembly, the lower chamber, Thursday morning.

It now goes to President Auriol for signature and is expected to become effective today or tomorrow. The measure was demanded by the Schuman cabinet to guarantee non-strikers the right to work without interference, to suppress sabotage and to allow the state to use force in accomplishing these purposes.

REVISION REFUSED

The French Press Agency earlier today quoted Schuman as saying Auriol had already refused a demand by the Communist-led General Confederation of Labor (CGT) that the bill be sent back to Assembly for revision.

Although the bill was the center of a hot legislative fight in both chambers, the government for several days has been making use of virtually the same powers given it by the measure and to all intents and purposes it is in effect now in the struggle to break Communist-engineered strikes which have idled more than 2,000,000 men.

The government announced in the Assembly last night that police had been empowered to use firearms in defending themselves against mobs if necessary.

RECORD SESSION

The all-day and all-night session of the upper chamber, the Council of the Republic, was the longest in its short history. The proceedings were blocked time after time by the delaying tactics of Communist members, who cast the only votes against the bill.

The labor crisis appeared to be at the showdown stage, with police directed to use firearms if necessary and strikers under orders of their Communist leadership to "hold firm for the last quarter-hour that will decide the victory."

The three-weeks-long wave of strikes, violence and sabotage, reaching a virtual state of anarchy at a few points—already has cost more than a score of lives and accounted millions of dollars in property damage and lost production. Thousands have been injured or arrested.

A communique of the CGT repeated demands for a "guarantee of the buying power of the minimum wage."

Result of Woman's Gift of Eyes Waited

Surgical dressings swathing the heads of a man and woman hospitalized at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary concealed the answer today to whether a dying woman's gesture to aid humanity would restore sight to the two patients.

Delicate grafting operations were performed on the two patients, whose identities were withheld by doctors, and corneas taken from the eyes of Mrs. A. Slater Reed, 67, of East Greenwich, R. I., replaced the scar tissue which deprived both of their sight.

Mrs. Reed died at Rhode Island Hospital in Providence five days after an operation for removal of a tumor. When she entered the hospital two weeks ago, she willed her eyes to the New England Eye Bank at the Boston Infirmary with the explanation:

"I wish to do something for humanity."

The eyes were quickly removed following her death, rushed to the Rhode Island airport at Hills-grove, and flown to Logan Airport.

Doctors said today that the man and woman with "new eyes" must lie motionless on their cots for 12 days, holding their heads as nearly motionless as possible, and that success of the operation will hinge largely on how well they follow instructions.

Then the bandages will be removed, the preliminary results determined, and a lengthy process of treatment begun. A second operation may be necessary, and specialists cautioned that five years may be required before the patients can expect full restoration of vision.

Not Missing, Says Missing Woodsman

Liniree J. Bolly, 70, a woodsman who disappeared in Boston five weeks ago leaving a suitcase containing bank books and property deeds, turned up today in Auburn, Me., where he said he had been living for the past month.

Bolly telephoned to a Lewiston newspaper to identify himself and say that he had read he was "missing" in that paper.

He said he had forgotten the suitcase in a taxicab and had reported the loss to Boston police, according to the newspaper.

But, the suitcase was found here at Massachusetts General Hospital. There was no record of his admission there but attaches said that on the day it was found, a man had applied for treatment and was sent to the out-patient department. He never reported there.

Chief Rescues Ill Woman, 70 In Malden Fire

A 70-year-old ailing Malden woman was carried to safety by Acting Fire Chief William R. Moran today as a two-alarm fire, starting in a first floor clothes closet, shot through the two upper stories of a wooden three-family apartment house in Essex st., Malden, forcing three other adults and five children to the street.

The rescued woman was Mrs. Jennie Promisel, 70, who, along with Moran, suffered several bruises when he slipped with his burden on icy front porch steps and fell to the street. Her husband, Morris, 70, was assisted to the street by Hoseman Edward Kerwin of Engine 1.

Others who fled the flames were Mrs. Lee Silva, 30, first floor tenant, with her three children, Francis, 10, and Gerald and Gloria, 3-year-old twins, and Mrs. Carolyn Silliker and her two children, John, 7, and Patricia, 4.

Help in fighting the blaze, which caused an estimated $8000 damage, was summoned from Everett, Melrose and Medford.

U. S. Army Aide in France Kills Child, Wife, in-Laws

NANCY, France, Dec. 6 (AP)—Salvador de los Santos, 40, Filipino and former American soldier, was charged today with killing his French wife, a child and his wife's parents.

Santos, a civilian employee of the U. S. Army's Graves Registration command, told police his father-in-law refused to let him enter his wife's home yesterday when he arrived carrying gifts for St. Nicholas Day. Mrs. Santos had been seeking a divorce.

Seek Bandits Who Missed Money in Market Holdup

Roxbury police today were seeking two holdup men whose plans to rob a super-market at Dudley st., Roxbury, sadly misfired.

Holding the manager and six clerks at gunpoint the two bandits made off with handfuls of empty pay envelopes and missed their objective—the day's receipts of $2000—which lay in the safe beside the empty envelopes.

Orchestra, Choir Of Prison on Air

For the first time in the history of Charlestown State Prison, the prisoners' orchestra and the choir will take part at 5 p. m., Sunday, in a radio broadcast direct from the prison.

The program will be the first of four Sunday broadcasts from the prison auditorium of the Christian Doctrine Hour, conducted by Rev. Harold W. Frazier, O.M.E., of Lowell, over Station WLAW.

The series of broadcasts were arranged by Fr. Frazier with Warden Francis J. W. Langan and Rev. Joseph Robinson, Catholic prison chaplain and pastor of St. Stephen's Church in the North End, who will preach the sermons.

Musical programs will be provided by 30 members of the prisoners' choir and orchestra, many of whom are talented professional musicians.

Drinking by Mothers Causes Child Crime, Says FBI Chief

By DAVID SENTNER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6—The increase in drinking by parents and the attendance of mothers at taverns and public bars has much to do with the sharp rise in juvenile delinquency, according to J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director.

The FBI chief said his remarks on parental neglect, made in the "This Is Your FBI" radio network program, was intended to stress this factor.

"With a major crime occurring ever 18 seconds, it is time to pause and examine the problem," Hoover said. "I have noted that there is something lacking in the home life of most youngsters who violate the law."

"Even the delinquents who are from apparently normal homes are victims of parental neglect. The parents are either too careless or too busy with their own pleasures to give sufficient time, companionship and interest to their children."

Despite an encouraging decline in youthful delinquency immediately after the war, arrests of youngsters are again on the increase, the FBI chief revealed.

"During the first nine months of 1947," he added, "arrests of boys 18 to 20 years of age increased nearly 27 per cent over the same period in 1946. Moreover, some of the wartime teenage offenders have grown up and many are now committing more serious crimes."

2 Soldiers Charged With Maine Murder

BANGOR, Me., Dec. 6 (AP)—Two soldiers from the Dow Field Army Air Base were charged today with murder, Sheriff Herbert L. Pinkham said, in the Thanksgiving Eve slaying of Rene Browne, 28, Rockland telephone worker, at Wiscasset.

Sheriff Pinkham said George H. La Mothe, 19, of Lambertville, N. J., had admitted to firing the three fatal shots and Edward F. Wodarski, of New Britain, Ct., admitted to his part in the crime and disposal of the body in woods near U. S. Route 1.

Browne's body with three bullet holes in the back, was found by hunters Thanksgiving Day in woods about 60 feet from the highway.

Browne had been slain as he drove from Rockland to spend the holiday at South Portland with his mother and sister. His body was found 60 feet from the highway.

The arrests followed reports from New Jersey that some of Browne's bloodstained clothing and personal effects had been found at Lambertville, and that a car answering the description of his had been seen on the Merritt Parkway near the Connecticut-New York line Thanksgiving Day.

One of the occupants was described by two Maine men who noted the car as having worn Army clothing.

State Police Capt. J. Edward Marks said La Mothe and Wodarski were hitchhiking and had been picked up by Browne.

Pinkham, sheriff of Lincoln County in which the slaying occurred, said that warrants charging the soldier pair with murder had been issued by Lincoln County Municipal Court Judge Ralph A. Gallagher.

Browne's car, which had been a major object of search in the investigation, was found, Pinkham said at Bangor at the time of the arrest.

Authorities said the two soldiers did not give any motive for the shooting.

La Mothe is a private first class and Wodarski a private.

Browne resided in Lubec before moving to Rockland a year ago.

La Mothe and Wodarski were taken after their arrest from the air base to the Kennebec county jail, Augusta, to await Lincoln county arraignment.

Another Hunter Killed, One Hurt

One hunter was killed and another critically wounded today in accidental shootings on the official closing day of the Massachusetts deer hunting season. A third hunter died last night after an accidental shooting.

Stanley Bobola, 20, Chicopee Falls, was shot and killed in Otis woods by another hunter, who mistook him for a deer. Bobola died at Fairview Hospital, Great Barrington.

In Truro, Lucien E. Fortin, 29, North Fairhaven, was shot through the mouth when he accidentally stepped into the line of fire of one of three hunting companions. He is in critical condition at Cape Cod Hospital, Hyannis.

The other victim, Leo Coan, 29, Lowell, was killed by his own gun, which discharged accidentally as he was preparing a shelter in Westford woods. He had set the gun against a clump of bushes while making the shelter.

Waltham, Malden Safes Broken Open

A small safe was stolen from a Waltham chain market and carried off in a purloined truck today and a second safe was battered open at a Malden laundry, netting the thieves at least $1000 in cash and $150 in stamps.

The money and stamps were taken from the safe of the Halcyon Laundry, Eastern ave., Malden, after thieves had used a sledge hammer to smash it open. They had gained entrance through a window.

In Moody st., Waltham, thieves forced the rear door of the First National Store, backed the truck to the loading platform and used a dolly and a steel roller to slide the safe into the vehicle.

Contents of the safe were unrevealed but it was known to have contained cash. The truck, stolen from the parking lot behind the store, belongs to Vincent Cellucci, Cherry st., Waltham.

Fireman Hurt, 8 Driven Out in Lynn Fire

Fireman Thomas Burns, 46, Morris st., West Lynn, suffered a severe foot cut today while battling a blaze in a 2½-story wooden dwelling in Jefferson st., East Lynn, that drove eight persons to the street.

The fire started in the cellar near an oil furnace and shot quickly through the building. Among those made temporarily homeless were Mrs. Vivian Ellison, a telephone operator, and her two grown children. Burns was treated at the hospital and released.

SHE'S STILL MISS GLAMOR LEGS AT 70

LONDON, Dec. 6 (AP)—Mistinguett, queen of the French music halls since prewar (Spanish-American war) days, flexed her famous legs in London today, ready to show she's still a glamor girl at 70, more or less.

She hitched her hemline halfway to her hips for photographers and smiled radiantly. A British reporter tried to find out her age.

"Cinquante," said Mistinguett, batting her crystal blue eyes.

"That means 50," interpreted another Briton. Pretty soon somebody else inquired.

"One hundred and four," answered Mistinguett. "My legs, my figure, they have no age. The rest is none of your business."

She came here for a week at the London Casino, her first stage appearance in Britain although she was acting in Paris in the '90s. She was here on a visit in 1938, however.

One of the Britons who saw her then said: "Her hair was red then, now it's brown, but, by Jove, I believe she looks younger than she did 10 years ago."

'SLAIN BY SUITOR — Muriel Klingman, 23, of Seattle, Wash., who was shot and killed in that city. Police claim that Arthur Lindholt, 25, Univ. of Washington student, fired two shots into her body, then killed himself.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6 (AP)—Yes, it snowed in Los Angeles yesterday. Of course, the Chamber of Commerce boys huffed, there wasn't enough to measure—it melted on contact. But the weatherman pronounced it snow.

Measurable snow has fallen only once in the 77-year weather bureau history of the city properly.

GASOLINE TANK ABLAZE—Billowing clouds of smoke and giant puffs of fire rise from a blazing storage tank at the Standard Oil refinery at El Segundo, Cal. An explosion blew the gasoline tank apart, killing at least one person.

Smash Chicago Counterfeit Gang

CHICAGO, Dec. 6 (INS)—A five-man counterfeiting gang, alleged to have passed $1,000,000 in bogus currency since last July was smashed today when the alleged leader of the gang, Joseph Moschiano, 38, was arrested in his Chicago home.

Secret Service agents found $350,000 in counterfeit $10 bills walled up behind planks in a garage in the rear of the house. Harry D. Apheier, secret service head in Chicago, said:

"We tore the garage apart to find the bills."

Apheier said capture of Moschiano completed apprehension of the gang, which he described as the largest in the city since 1934. He said four of the members of the gang had been rounded up earlier.

Coercion Charged To Pittsburgh ITU

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Printing Industry of Pittsburgh, an association representing 16 printing plants in the Pennsylvania city, has filed a complaint against the International Typographical Union accusing it of "restraint and coercion" of employees and "refusal to bargain."

The complaint named the ITU and the union's Local No. 7 whose contracts with job, magazine and other shops in Pittsburgh expire Dec. 31.

NLRB Field Examiner Samuel M. Hacker, who said the case would be joined with similar ones already on file here, asserted the Association contended the ITU is only willing to sign a contract which would be invalid under provisions of the Taft-Hartley act.

Hope Lost on Reich Pact With Russia

LONDON, Dec. 6 (INS)—Western delegation circles have virtually abandoned all hope any basic agreement on Germany and Austria will be reached at the current conference of Big Four foreign ministers.

It is believed Russia has no intention of modifying its policy sufficiently to permit an understanding with the western powers on these problems.

This belief gained ground as result of Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's attitude at yesterday's luncheon with State Sec. Marshall. It was learned on high authority today the luncheon was a complete failure insofar as conference business was concerned.

Free Christian Science Lecture Set for Monday

Monday evening, in the edifice of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, located at Falmouth, Norway and St. Paul sts. Back Bay, a free lecture on Christian Science will be given by George Channing, C.S.B., of San Francisco, Cal.

Mr. Channing, a member of the board of lectureship of The Mother Church, under whose auspices the lecture is being held, will speak on the subject: "Christian Science: Practical Religion." The lecture begins at 7:45. All are welcome to attend.

FIGHTING CHANCE

SEATTLE, Dec. 6 (AP)—"Now I'm broke. How'll I telephone the police?" shouted John Doster, as two men sped off in a car after robbing him of his wallet on a Seattle street early this morning.

One of the robbers leaned from the window and flipped a nickel back to the victim. Doster telephoned police that two men menaced him with a revolver and took his wallet containing $14.85.

Police blockaded nearby streets, but the pair escaped.

Partition Gladdens Jewish Festival

New England Jewry prepared to begin celebrating the eight-day holiday of Chanukah at sunset tomorrow, the joyful holiday spirit enhanced by UN action in veiling partition of Palestine.

Rabbi Benjamin L. Grossman declared:

"Chanukah this year is ushered into the Jewish world with special significance. It commemorates the triumph of truth and justice waged for independence by a nation that was deprived of its homeland for almost 2000 years. 'The dream of the Jew throughout the many centuries for the restoration of his land is now brought into realization. Jews throughout the world celebrate the festival of Chanukah this year by a new consecration in behalf of Palestine and a rededication to the Jewish homeland."

When Will Our Taxes Be Reduced?

This question involves some other questions... Are we willing to take a chance on a smaller armed force? On letting Europe and the rest of the world go hang? On curtailing veterans' aid? Edward Maher's absorbing and timely article, "When Will They Cut Our Income Taxes?" completely clarifies the tax problem.

Why Hospital Bills Make People Sick!

Why do some patients pay more than others, although both receive the same treatment? Why do modern hospitals continue to lose money, creaking along with horse-and-buggy business methods? You'll find the startling answers in Morris Markey's candid article, "Why Do Hospitals Charge So Much?"

What Makes A Man Run Out On His Bride?

You may say it's a lucky thing that this bride of four weeks was deserted. But whether you take his side or her's in this story of a strange marriage, you'll find "The Inverted Forest" by H.D. Salinger among the most fascinating romantic novels you've ever read.

Mustangs New, Active JVA Unit

The "Medford Mustangs," one of the latest groups of young patriots to join the Junior Victory Army under the leadership of its commander, Nunzio Abramo, Princeton st., Medford, are doing a perfect job of collecting articles for the veterans at the Chelsea Naval Hospital.

According to Capt. Leonard Prestia, the corps has collected about 400 books and magazines already for the hospital. At the last meeting it was voted to collect funny books and playing cards.

The boys also planned a house-to-house canvass to help make their waste paper drive a success. All the money collected will be put into war bonds and stamps.

For Christmas gifts the enthusiastic boys are making scrapbooks filled with various candy bars, different brands of cigarettes, gum, shoe laces and pencils, and the books are to be sent to the veterans' hospitals.

Mrs. Bessie Abramo is the adult sponsor of the corps, while Domenico Drago is the sergeant and Donald Calareso is the corporal. The two privates are Robert Salerno and Ronald Laham.

To join the JVA, send name, age and address to the Junior Army, P. O. Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin, well-wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Sunday's Advertiser.

Sailors for Spring

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

SAILORS WILL RIDE the waves . . . of the hair next spring! Not sailors in the old trite definition of the word . . . to go sailing off the head at the slightest gust of wind . . . but as perky little bonnets with a new slant on head lines and with specific trend affinity for the less hair, smaller head look. Add to this ribbon and velvet and coquettish veiling and you have some idea of the reincarnated Gibson Girl sailor.

At a recent New York presentation of what the sponsoring Millinery Creators' Guild called "a designer's Collection of spring forecasts," sailors got top designer rating and were shown in profusion to an invited audience of retail executives, buyers and fashion press.

The new ones are translated with high imagination and an eye for the longer hemline and cinched-in waistline in jewel-tone and bright-hued version accenting the forward, oval contour with narrow sides and short back . . . a new silhouette for the sailor. And they are as gay and whimsically romantic as Mardi Gras . . . dispelling the preconceived notion that sailors must be tailored hat affairs for the tailored woman.

The spring previews are young, pert and as lush-lovely as clothes will be come bird time. Harryson calls his "polonaise sailors" . . . which may be worn to waltz time, too . . . and designs them so they are cleverly lifted away from the head in front by an invisible bandeau flaunting flowers or bows over the brim and nestling on the forehead. The sweet touch. Edgar Lorie likes the big sailor and the smaller one. And G. Howard Hodge recognizes the importance of the oval sailor as well as the wide one for full skirts.

HONEY BLONDE SHADE

Jeanne Tete, another sailor devotee, makes hers in honey blonde with a warm yellow undertone to give it life, a color she is endorsing for early spring hats. However, milliners have spread their color scope over a wide palette of pastels and bright hues. Such colors as boulevard green, sun lemon, regal blue, bright red featured in the new hats are enough to get the woman over 40 started right now pledged to a program of discarded inhibitions about hat hues.

Mauve, pink, natural, pale chamois, often contrasted with green satin ribbon, are also among the top colors.

The side slant hat pose, launched this year, has begun to take hold and will be found in the new spring hats in every shape. These guild designers sponsor it for brim, for beret, turban, cuff and dip it low as a foil for more of the feminine in the hat silhouette.

Other predictions include soft satin-finished straws, shantung, bakus and flowers artly manipulated, the use of lots of velvet facings and ribbon, tinted quills, portrait colored chiffon and the abundant use of veiling, ribbon or velvet edged.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY: You will find the last two weeks of this month particularly favorable for new ventures. That is the indication of the stars. They may not be important changes but they should be pleasant ones.

Lucky color: ORANGE.
Lucky number: 6.
Lucky flower: TEA ROSE.
Lucky stone: DIAMOND.

Dad as Best Man

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:
My fiancé has mentioned that he would like to have his father as best man at our wedding. I have never heard this. Is it correct? FRANCES M.
Yes, entirely correct, and quite often done. (And it was very often done during the war.)

-HONEY BLONDE with a warm yellow undertone is the spring color sponsored by Jeanne Tete. This felt sailor . . . worn completely on the right side . . . is trimmed with honey blonde meline and matching cord, softly draped around the crown.

POLONAISE SAILOR, which can be worn to waltz time, too, of lace patterned tulle . . . by Harryson . . . has a clever lift away from the head. Pink old-fashioned roses, placed in front of the elongated brim, with pert black velvet ribbon ties, dispel the old trite definition of the "sailor."

"CAN-CAN" SAILOR, worn to the extreme right side . . . a carry-over of the side-slanted hat silhouette of this year . . . is done in gray and pink dot veiling by Vogue Hats. The same material is used to give a ruffle effect on the brim . . . while the dainty bows of pink velvet ribbon add appealing "eye-bait."

FORWARD BICORNE in light gray felt, by Germaine Montabert, hints of high hats to come. White feather wings are posed high at the front and white grosgrain binding adds the nice touch. The chenille dot face veil drapes softly over the brim.

Use Tricks With Leftovers to Aid Thrifty Homemakers

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

FOOD CONSERVATION, most of us are beginning to discover, has a "double-barreled" benefit. Not only does it enable America to send more food to starving peoples abroad, but it is also one of the best ways to cut food costs and help the family budget.

One of the best and simplest ways of conserving food in the home is to avoid waste by making full use of all leftovers. Bread and cake often seem fit only to throw away after a day or two, but that need not be the case. A very little work will touch them up into new appetizing desserts which will please the family with their variety and delicacy.

Here are some suggestions which will help you enjoy

CAKE CRUMB PUDDING

1 cup dry cake crumbs
1/2 cup milk (about)
4 egg yolks beaten 1 cup sugar
1/4 cup butter, creamed
1 cup peach preserves

1 cup chopped nut meats
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
Soak cake crumbs in enough milk to moisten (amount depends on softness of crumbs). Mix egg yolks, sugar and butter; add cake crumbs, mixing well; then add preserves and nuts. Turn into greased baking dish and bake in slow oven (300 deg. F.) until firm. Serve with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

LEMON MERINGUE PUDDING

1/2 cup water 1 cup sugar
1 1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind
1/2 cup lemon juice
1-3 cup butter or margarine
2 eggs, separated
2 cups fresh, soft bread crumbs
Add water to lemon rind and juice. Cream butter, add 1/2 cup sugar and beat well; beat in egg yolks and stir in crumbs and water-lemon mixture. Turn into greased baking dish, place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 30 to 35 minutes, or until firm. Beat egg whites until stiff, add remaining 1/2 cup sugar gradually, beating until blended. Spread on pudding and bake 15 minutes longer, or until meringue is delicately browned. Makes 6 servings.

APRICOT MARMALADE PUDDING

2 cups day-old bread crumbs
2 cups scalded milk
1 cup apricot marmalade
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt 1 tsp. vanilla
Soak bread crumbs in milk. Set aside until cool; add other ingredients. Bake in hour in buttered pudding dish in moderately slow oven (325 deg. F.). Serve hot or cold with any fruit sauce.

APPLE BROWN BETTY

9 1/2-in. slices of bread
1 tbsp. butter or margarine
3 cups thinly sliced apples
(4 to 5 apples)
1 cup sugar 2 tsp. cinnamon
Remove crusts from bread, cut in small cubes, and saute in butter until evenly browned. Mix apples with sugar and cinnamon. Arrange alternate layers of bread and apples in greased 1 1/2-quart casserole. Cover and bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 30 minutes. Uncover and bake until brown, about 15 minutes longer. Serve with plain cream or hard sauce. Makes 6 servings.

'The Winnah . . . and Still World's Champion'

Battered, Bloodied . . . But Victor

Solemn visaged Harry Balough, Madison Sq. Garden announcer raises the right hand of Joe Louis, symbolic of "winnah, and still champion" after the Detroit Brown Bomber had been given a split decision over Jersey Joe Walcott. Joe, his face badly battered, stands grim while 18,194 infuriated fans booed the choice. Walcott, 25th challenger to face the champion, had dropped Louis to the canvas twice, once for a count of seven. His lethal right hand had virtually closed the Bomber's left eye, swollen his lips, bloodied his nose and come within an eyelash of lifting title.

BUILD NICARAGUA CANAL

ONCE AGAIN the vulnerability, as well as the inadequacy, of the Panama Canal is being emphasized as an extreme weakness in our national defense.

Congress has received through President Truman a report by Gov. J. C. Mehauffey of the Canal Zone, recommending that $2,482,000,000 be provided to reconstruct the canal by removing its locks and making it a "sea-level" waterway.

Asserting that the present canal is "totally lacking" in security to meet the future needs of national defense, Governor Mehauffey said that Gatun Lake—which is necessary to operate the locks—could be "breached" even with ORDINARY AIR BOMBS and the canal could be closed for as LONG AS A YEAR because of loss of water.

Atomic bombs, the Governor also said, could easily DESTROY the existing canal.

"Against the canal," in his words, "the effect would be to increase the probability of COMPLETE and LASTING closure."

The report further declared that a sea-level canal could "in no sense" be destroyed as the lock canal might be.

Nonetheless, the "less vulnerable" type of canal COULD ALSO BE RENDERED USELESS TO THE NAVY AT CRITICAL PERIODS.

Again quoting from the report to the President:

"After the explosion of an atomic bomb, dropped directly into the canal, traffic could be restored, provided the necessary personnel and equipment were available, within a period of a few weeks, with full allowance for the difficulties involved in removing radioactive debris.

"The use against a sea-level canal of a more powerful atomic bomb, such as may be developed in the future, would increase the time of closure."

GOVERNOR MEHAUFFEY further noted that reconstruction of the Panama Canal would be a "project of great magnitude" requiring 10 years for its completion.

Even when it is accomplished, however, this would still leave the nation with a hazardous "bottleneck" for either naval or mercantile navigation.

What the Administration should propose, and what Congress should approve, is the immediate construction of A NICARAGUA CANAL.

The Nicaragua Canal would be a SEA-LEVEL waterway from the beginning, making use of the extensive Lake Nicaragua for a large part of its route.

And TWO CANALS would accommodate at least TWICE AS MUCH maritime traffic as one canal—and would be TWICE AS SAFE in time of war.

THIS IS NOT a new idea; it is merely a strangely neglected one.

It was discussed by Mr. William Randolph Hearst on Feb. 7, 1929, in a letter to Congressman Loring M. Black of New York, which was read by him on the floor of the House of Representatives.

Mr. Hearst wrote:

"I have been advocating the Nicaragua route for nearly thirty-five years.

"I advocated it first in preference to the Panama route because I thought it involved fewer engineering difficulties and fewer foundation problems, and because it provided for a better canal and a quicker route, and finally BECAUSE IT WAS MORE EASILY DEFENDED AND LESS EASILY DESTROYED IN TIME OF WAR.

"The question now, however, is not which is the better canal.

"The Panama Canal has been built and another canal is needed to accommodate the constantly increasing trans-isthmian traffic...

"The increase in destructiveness of military forces and methods, due largely to the perfection of the airplane, shows convincingly the advisability of ANOTHER CANAL as a protective measure in case of war."

*Who shall tell the lady's grief
When her cat was past relief?
Who shall number the hot tears
Shed o'er her, beloved for years?
Who shall say the dark dismay
Which her dying caused that day?*

ABOVE IS first verse of a poem Miss Rossetti wrote in memory of her cat "Grimaldin." It is a very long poem but not quite as long as the one Elizabeth Barrett Browning wrote in memory of "Flush," her cocker spaniel.

IT HAS SEEMED to me in many restaurants recently the coffee served has been much weaker than usual. Now I learn that due to the high price of coffee many eateries are adding a third more water to a pound of coffee than is usual. The price of coffee beans is up 260 per cent from the prewar period.

SIDE LIGHTS: She remembers a moving picture she saw when she was 2 years old. That's what a 21-year-old Mo-n-e-y-sen, Pa., subscriber claims. Picture was "Lilac Time," featuring Gary Cooper and Colleen Moore... It was Helen Brown Norden who wrote "Latins Are Lousy Lovers." That was 10 years ago. But the Latins are still irritated by the crack and keep trying to prove Helen was wrong.

BRIEFLY: What is a quick cure, if any, for a cold sore? This minor affliction is a very depressing one for a young gentleman who has a heavy date in the offing... Have you ever seen or heard of a woman auctioneer? Neither have I. It would seem that with the vocal and persuasive talents possessed by most women many would be auctioneers.

DOUBLE HEADER: Ever hear of a football double header? The Mohawk A. C., celebrated Brooklyn semi-pro team of the yesteryear, once played two games the same afternoon and won both. What's more the Mohawks didn't use a single substitute. The eleven men that started the double header for the Mohawks finished it.

ASKING: Queries from Clients. Q.—Have been told the real name of Bandmaster John Philip Sousa was Ostrander. How about this? A.—It isn't so. He was the son of Antonio Sousa, who was born in Spain of Portuguese parents. John Philip Sousa's mother was a Brooklyn girl. Her maiden name was Elizabeth Trinkhaus. John was one of ten children. Q.—Where can I get a recording of the song "Bicycle Tune"? A.—Never heard of it. Only song about a bicycle I know of is that one about Daisy Bell and her boy friend on a "Bicycle Built for Two."

AMONG THE MARRIED: Long engagement periods result in many more happy marriages than short engagements. Such is the claim of experts on life among the married. Maybe they are right. I know a couple whose engagement period lasted seven years. They were happily married for 42 years. Or until the wife passed on. Still, on the other hand, I know a couple who met for the first time one morning and were married the afternoon of the same day. They have been happily married for 35 years.

ASIDES: The country's oldest business school is Albany Business College, Albany, N. Y., founded 90 years ago... Italian Chianti wine, of which I am very fond, is expected to drop 20 per cent in price shortly... Society column item from Pomona, Cal., newspaper: "Twenty-five Girl Scout leaders gathered at the Mesick residence for a nose-bag lunch," and what, may I ask, is a "nose-bag lunch?"

COFFEE: How many cups of coffee do you drink daily? I have a couple at breakfast and same at dinner. Some people say too much coffee is not good for you. Nevertheless one Elizabeth Durieux, of France, lived to be 114 years of age and she drank 40 cups of coffee a day.

POLICEMEN'S WIVES: The Boston Police Wives' Ass'n is the name of a very active New England organization. Eileen Brooks, a Boston policeman's wife and the mother of five children, is president. The members of the BPWW had much difficulty in making their budgets balance on a policeman's salary, so they started a campaign which resulted in their husbands getting a raise in salary. As far as I know, Boston is the only city in which policemen's wives are organized.

THESE DAYS

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

DEAR HUMPHREY BOGART:

I received your mimeographed letter in which you say:

"My recent trip to Washington, where I appeared with a group of motion picture people, has become the subject of such confused and erroneous interpretations that I feel the situation should be clarified.

"I am not a Communist. I am not a Communist sympathizer.

"I detest Communism just as any other decent American does.

"I have never in my life been identified with any group which was even sympathetic to Communism."

"My name will not be found on any Communist front organization nor as a sponsor of anything Communist."

"I went to Washington because I thought fellow Americans were being deprived of their constitutional rights, and for that reason alone.

"That the trip was ill-advised, even foolish, I am very ready to admit. At the time it seemed the thing to do.

"I have absolutely no use for Communism nor for anyone who serves that philosophy.

"I am an American.

"And very likely, like a good many of the rest of you, sometimes a foolish and impetuous American."

CONFESSION IS good for any man's soul. And you display great courage and manhood to confess error. Yes, that trip was foolish. You and your very beautiful lady did look exciting in the photographs, leading your gang that flew through the air all the way from Hollywood to Washington to save the world from the Thomas committee. You all looked so tall and masterful.

Next time, however, I hope you will look before you leap. Things are not always what they seem to be in the exciting game of international politics. For instance, you people out in Hollywood had an idea, like so many others in America, that this country had an ally during the war. You were asked to portray Soviet Russia as a glorious, free, democratic country that was allied to us. You may recall that Hollywood produced some pictures along that line.

Of course, that was never true. Soviet Russia was never an ally. Germany's war on Russia coincided, more or less, with our war on Germany and the Russians were ready and willing to take advantage of it particularly in the case of the $11,000,000,000 of lend-lease and we shipped them airplanes and tanks and machinery. But they never co-ordinated their military plans with ours. They never permitted our military observers to visit their fronts. They declined such co-operative action as appeared in the joint chiefs of staffs. They put terrific pressures on us for the second front, as they called it. And they blackmailed us at Teheran and Yalta. Allies do not act that way. Only enemies, temporarily related by coincidence, act that way.

IF YOU ARE genuinely contrite for a very foolish bit of exhibitionism, you ought to go further. You might tell us who suggested that trip from Hollywood to Washington. Whose brainchild was it? Who projected you and your wife to take the lead?

Your wife, Lauren Bacall, is a beautiful young lady and you are a popular actor, but some of those who marched behind you were neither beautiful nor particularly popular. They stuck you two out front because you did not belong to them. That is an old trick. But somebody was using both of you. Who is that somebody? In the pictures, you often sock a swine on the snout. You might sock whoever used you in this way. It would be a great service if you told all—and gave him a sock.

ANYHOW, I AM glad to see you among the Americans and not the stooge of that little gang of serious conspirators who are using their ephemeral Hollywood fame to ruin the country that gave them wealth, comfort and opportunity. You show first-rate manhood in taking the people who admire you into your confidence. Now do something for your country that it really constructive. Tell us who suggested and organized that trip. If you have no better way, use this column for that purpose. It gets around.

Best regards to the lady,

GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

George E. Sokolsky

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 6 (INS)—Tyrone Power told me he saw David Niven in England, and although David has been working on "Bonnie Prince Charlie" for Alexander Korda since April or May, they are not a third through the picture.

First Korda changed the director and reshot the scenes; then he changed the cameraman and made some of the scenes over; then the producer was taken off and the new man employed another technique. Good thing Sam Goldwyn isn't waiting for David, or there would be another film war between David and America.

David's next is "The Cairo Incident" for Charlie Einfeld. Some of that picture will be shot on location in French North Africa. The story by Ladislaus Fodor involves the disappearance of a cargo of gold being shipped there. Wolfgang Reinhardt will produce, and Irving Ravel has written the screenplay.

AUDIE MURPHY, who was so disappointed with movies in the beginning, is now taking his screen career seriously and I am glad, for we could use all we can get with his wonderful background.

Our most decorated hero is talking shop to Jules Levey, who wants to star him in a movie called "The Bad Boy," which will deal with the juvenile delinquency problem. The film will be released through Paramount and Audie is mighty interested in the idea.

NORMA SHEARER tells me she leaves with Marty Arronge and Irving Thalberg, Jr., for Switzerland on Sunday. Katherine Thalberg, however, remains to finish school.

"I am almost afraid to say we are going, we have postponed our trip so often. Irving has had several eye operations, but his eyes are now perfect."

"We'll spend Christmas at Devon," Norma told me. "It's one of the great skiing places in Switzerland and the place where many of the Olympic athletes are training. Irving enters school in Switzerland and we will all go to St. Moritz in February for the Olympic games."

That would seem to knock in the head the rumor that Norma contemplates doing "Lady Westminster's Fan."

"I still have no thought of returning to the screen," she said.

HOLLYWOOD may become one of the great art centers of the world—and why not? Our stars and directors are among the best patrons of art and many of them have some of the world's finest paintings hanging in their homes.

The opening of the Associated American Artists galleries this week-end is sure to draw a gala audience, with art critics from Chicago, New York and San Francisco as special guests.

Umberto Romano, noted Massachusetts artist, has painted murals for the private rooms in the gallery; Hubert Desouches flew here from Paris with four paintings never before exhibited in the United States.

Among the long list of patrons are Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Leroy, the Joseph Cotten, Otto Preminger, the Arthur Freeds, the Peter Rathwone and the Joel Pressmans (Claudette Colbert).

RONALD REAGAN had cautioned me that Jane Wyman was emotional and had let her movie, "Johnny Belinda," obsess her to such an extent that she could talk or think of nothing else.

Ronnie, who has always been patient and understanding when Jane, in the past, dramatized herself, believed she would get over this mood of wanting a separation. But now she has given statements to the press that her marriage is over, so he can only wait until she comes to her senses—if she does.

His thought was Maureen, who is old enough to read the newspapers. My thought is that Jane needs a rest and someone to talk common sense to her.

IT WAS OLD reunion week when William Wyler visited Laurence Olivier on the set of "Hamlet" and watched Larry direct as well as emote.

"What a dream set-up!" quipped Wyler. "A star comes in the morning and the first thing he says is, 'we'll start with a big close-up of me!'"

Fine way to talk about Sir Larry, but then, Wyler is an old friend from the days when he directed the British star in "Wuthering Heights."

Larry and Vivien have not changed their plans about taking the Old Vic troupe to Australia. They sail Feb. 16 and will get in the rehearsals on the trip. This means he has nixed Eagle-Lion's offer to star in "Moneyman."

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD collected at random:

Annabella will file her divorce suit here in Los Angeles. She feels there is no hurry on either side and she will be more comfortable in her own home. She and Tyrone Power had dinner a few nights ago, but it was just to talk over the suit. There's not a chance of a reconciliation.

Annabella

Are Bessie and Jesse Lasky on the verge of getting together? They were in Palm Springs together, and I hope it's true. Next Friday, Bessie is exhibiting 50 of her best paintings, at the Hall of Art in Beverly Hills.

Sam Goldwyn has changed his mind about going to England and flies back here Dec. 15 for the Christmas opening of "Joshop's Wife."

Bing Crosby played host to the Notre Dame football team here. They were at the recording of his next show and had a look at his movie, "Road to Rio." That, I can tell you is a treat—so funny Fred already looked at it twice.

Louise and Hal Wallis check up their 20th wedding anniversary this week.

Far from being ill in London, as reported, Peggy Cummins has been having the time of her life. She'll be back here in January.

Now that Peter Lind Hayes is fully recovered from near pneumonia, it's his talented wife, Mary Healy, who has the flu. She had to check out of their act at the Copacabana.

The Don De Fores expect their third baby Jan. 30.

The thieves who broke into Barbara Britton's Laurel Canyon home came off with a dud. Although she had $300,000 worth of real jewelry in a safe, the robbers picked up about $200 worth of costume jewelry. And I might add, the real stuff is being moved to a bank vault!

Sir Cedric Hardwicke has changed his mind about making a London movie for J. Arthur Rank and will direct a show for the Theater Guild instead. He leaves here as soon as he finishes "Connecticut Yankee" with Bing.

Two very agreeable young men, Frank Zachary and Peter Kleinberg, from Holiday magazine, called on me. They are taking pictures of Hollywood celebrities and are doing a story—a pleasant story, for a change.

Justice Headache

By Kenneth L. Dixon

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (INS)—Although they can't say much about it officially, Justice Department officials now find themselves in an extremely ticklish spot.

Their dilemma: Whether or not to proceed with a full-dress investigation into the truth behind the now famous "you're a liar" exchange between Sen. Owen Brewster and multi-millionaire plane-maker Howard Hughes.

Certain department operatives assigned to watch Brewster's Senate have recent committee activities during recent months know what they'd like to do.

Unofficially, and when assured they won't be quoted personally, they'll admit they're fairly itching to get their hands on the case.

But they all agree that the case is crying for investigation.

UNDER PRESENT conditions, however, their hands are tied in a manner unpleasant to consider in connection with our democratic processes of law and order. Reading from left to right, the situation seems to stack up something like this:

During recent days, Sen.

Brewster has made it perfectly clear that he isn't "requesting" an investigation.

For reasons which as yet remain somewhat unclear, officially speaking, the Maine Republican released an exchange of letters between his office and the Justice Department on that subject.

The issue involved was Hughes' assertion (and Brewster's subsequent denial) under oath that the Senator had offered to call off the committee's investigation of $40,000,000 in Hughes aircraft war contracts if Hughes would agree to a merger of the Pan American Airways and Trans World Airlines.

Brewster took the stand to deny (also under oath) all the allegations. Subsequently, he sent Atty. Gen. Tom Clark a statement declaring, "I will welcome and invite the most thorough examination of this charge by the attorney general in justice to all concerned."

But in the exchange of correspondence which followed, Brewster insisted he had never requested an investigation of the Hughes charges. Further, he slapped the hands of the employee who wrote the letter by going over his head to the Attorney General in replying that while of course he still would "welcome" such a probe if someone else pushed it, he certainly hadn't requested it and wasn't doing so at the time!

The implication was stern and unmistakable. Brewster, who may of course be utterly in the right and merely weary of further controversy on the subject, does not want the subject probed.

WHICH BRINGS US to the unpleasant aspects of the situation, as follows:

Although the legislative and executive branches of our government are supposed to be strictly separated, unfortunately they are not. Next year, in the course of approving or rejecting other administrative finances, Congress will be asked to okay an increased Justice Department appropriation.

And a single Senator can do a lot of damage to such an appropriation.

Thus the G-men—as a matter of department preservation—will lay off the Brewster-Hughes controversy, unless Hughes publicly presses the charges.

TAKING YOU AROUND.

Twelve noon: At the MDC office, 20 Somerset, we solve the mystery of that coffee-dam in the river between Cottage Farm and Harvard bridges. A column of river water, one yard thick, will be diverted into the government's very hush-hush supersonic lab on the riverbank, for motor cooling and maybe some other, more hush-hush purposes. Then the government lets the river have the water back. . . . Near Harvard bridge, that's just a drain-pipe installation. At Longfellow bridge, it's a diversion of water for cooling purposes from Broad canal into the gas plant. . . . 1 p. m.

In the State House corridor we hear that evicting police time will be extended from four to six months. And that something will have to be done to relieve the courts of congestion due to eviction cases. 1:28 p. m.: We pick up an American and are thrilled to see it has EIGHTY pages.

1:30 p. m.—Leaving the Bellevue newsstand, we meet a friend who says Max Grossman (tour penal institutions commissioner) is likely to get something bigger. Max has a record of service to city, state and nation that can be termed brilliant. . . . 1:45 p. m.—In the Parker House lobby we hear a chap say of another: "He's got such a headache he can't find a headache to fit it." . . . 2:15 p. m.—Lunching at Barsanti's (enlarged and renovated), Cy Young of Long's tells us that you can't break the mainspring of your watch by winding too lightly, unless you really force it.

But a simple change of temperature will do it. After a thunder shower cools off a hot summer day, watchsmiths get hundreds of repair jobs. . . . At night, says Cy, stand your wrist watch on its crown (stem), its natural position. Stand your pocket watch stem up. Never hang it on the wall. Watches hung like that often start swinging like a pendulum.

4 P. M. At the office. We receive a phone call from a Chicago man who asks: "Why can I drink and do other things on Sunday in Boston, but can't dance, not even with my wife?" We reply: "We're not sure why you can't!" . . . 4:30 p. m. A letter from Edith Stevens of Arlington (a movie fan since early Biograph and Essanay days): "Barry Fitzgerald's mammy in 'Going My Way' was kind of Kyndrick, . . . and the shrewish housekeeper was Edith Mayson." Our answer: "Thanks, Edith. We have decided that even Barry doesn't know who his mother was. My Boston (a movie fan since the Dream of the Eternity Friend). And we bet you don't remember that one, Edith. We saw it at the rustic 'openair' theater in Medford a long ago. . . . 5:30 p. m. Now, hitting the pavements again. At the Little Bldg. drugstore, we are asked (but don't know the answer) if Denis Delaney will try for Governor, as reported at the Gridiron Club fiesta. (Denny: We just can't help it if you're so popular that your name keeps popping into this column).

7:30 p. m.—We're at the Oval Room. Sorry, but we can't keep away from that Ray Bolger. If this Boston dancer isn't tops among entertainers, then we don't know who is. Do you know how you look doing the rumba? Ray can show you, and you'd howl. Or how you looked doing the manual of arms? Dorchester Ray can make you remember. . . . You remember Ray as a dancer? Now he's an actor. Let's boast about this Boston man who once tried selling vacuum cleaners. . . . Let's boast about this Boston insurance (New England Mutual). Then clerking in a Boston bank. . . . If Boston can produce such a Ray Bolger (and not forgetting Jack Donahue) Boston's got something to be proud of bringing laughter into a Sad Sad sort of world. . . . 8:50 p. m.

—Mrs. Sam Cohen, wife of the sports editor, is telling us about these boys: bow ties that light up when the kids press a button. Nifty, we agree.

9 P. M. We're at the Music Box. Charley Lee, bartender and ex-actor, is showing us a faded photo of himself with Fred Allen and Portland Hoffa, the day they were married. Twenty years ago last May 6. . . . They were married at St. Malachuk on 49th st. "We went to the Andros for breakfast," Charley is saying. "I said to Fred: 'Allee, we've got to get a picture of this.' . . . So they went to a shooting gallery on 42d st. Portland looks just like a bride. Fred just like a bridegroom—you know, standing next to her. After a round of the town, Fred said: 'Gee whiz, I'm tied.' Said Portland: 'OK, Fred, you go to bed. I'll go on my honeymoon with Charley.' . . . Concludes Charley: 'Well, I was the best man.'"

9:30 P. M.: Charley is telling us about Duffy and Sweeney, who signed up for a vaudeville turn on Broadway. One night, Duffy would be too drunk to appear. The next night, Duffy would show up, but Sweeney would be drunk. So the theater manager told the stage director: "Throw the pair of them out in the alley." To which the stage director retorted: "The pair of them, is it? I can't get the pair of them together to throw the pair of them out in the alley." . . . 9:45: We're telling Charley about the Russian attaché in "Gentlemen from Athens." The Russian is going to be in this country for only two years, so he has his own Two-Year Plan. "There are a lot of things in your country that I don't approve of," he says, "but that's no reason why I shouldn't enjoy them." . . . 10 p. m. We learn that instead of spreading colds (as we all do), Roy Lane and Edith Busch, the classy singers, are spreading immunization pills wherever they go. NOT a bad idea.

10:20 P. M. Now we're at the Plymouth Theater seeing how they've changed that limping last act of "Gentlemen from Athens." They're going on Broadway next Tuesday. You know, it's make or break now. . . . Well, they HAVE been at work. Congressman Sock (for Socrates) Christopher doesn't knock the bust of Socrates off the desk. Lee Kilpatrick, the Virginia smoothie, now does it. And how! The customers in the front row have to duck bits of plaster. . . . Sock comes dashing back on stage, to the arms of his gal, to his soaring ideals. He's going back to Athens. "Al, having been voted out of Congress for spending too much for election. He's going to run again, fight for that One World. . . . Beautiful Lee (Edith Atwater) has warmed-up since opening night. Tony Quinn is still hot. The audience rocks the balcony with applause. Still, Denny Delaney's (oh, gosh!) ending might have been better. Denny would have it end with Sock on the air, rising to the heights, carrying his fight for peace home to the people. . . . 11:15 p. m. Second darkest cocktail room in Boston is the Touraine Sable Room (first is the Bellevue). And there's something about those waitresses! . . . 11:45 p. m. Calling things off. . . . What! So early? Well, we still have to write this, you know.

Phumiphon Officially Declared King of Siam

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Dec 6 (AP)—King Phumiphon Aduldet of Siam officially came of age today when he quietly celebrated his 20th birthday. He succeeded to the throne in June, 1946, when his brother, King Ananda Mahidol, was shot and killed in the royal palace in Bangkok.

King Phumiphon is studying law and political and social sciences at Lausanne University.

18 WALCOTT'S PILOT CLAIMS TITLE ON POINTS

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, SAT., DEC. 6, 1947

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—Joe Webster, manager of Jersey Joe Walcott, announced early today that he had entered a formal claim with the New York State Athletic Commission for the world's heavyweight boxing championship which Joe Louis retained by virtue of winning a split decision over Walcott last night.

Webster said he had telephoned Commission Chairman Eddie Eagan after the fight and told Eagan: "I want to make a legal protest for the world's heavyweight boxing championship Monday morning."

Webster added that Eagan agreed to call a special meeting of the Commission Monday at 11 a. m. to hear the protest.

"I am protesting the decision on the basis of your own point scoring system," Webster said he told Eagan.

The composite vote of the referee and two judges awarded Walcott 37 points to 32 for Louis. Referee Ruby Goldstein gave Walcott 15 points, Louis 12. Judge Marly Monroe gave Louis 11 points and Walcott 10, while Judge Frank Forbes scored 12 points for Walcott and 9 for Louis.

Eagan said that he had not called any special meeting of the Commission for Monday.

"I merely told Webster that he could see me Monday at 11 a. m. and that if the matter was worthy, the entire Commission would consider it at our regular meeting on Friday," Eagan explained.

Walcott Wins on Points; System Devised by Eagan

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—The New York system of scoring prize fights by points, under which Jersey Joe Walcott has laid claim to Joe Louis' heavyweight title following a split decision in Louis' favor last night, was instituted by Com. Eddie Eagan to do away with draw bouts.

It is designed as a supplemental means of deciding a fight. The main method, of course, is by awarding individual rounds to the fighter who dominated them, although even this has exceptions.

Adding up the score cards of the two judges and referee shows 37 points in Walcott's favor and 32 for Louis. The rounds were 23 for Louis and 19 for Walcott, with three even.

However, under the New York rules a judge can give his decision to a fighter who wins a lesser number of rounds providing the fighter inflicted the greater damage.

The most points that can be scored in a round is four. The maximum given either man last night was three, even in the fourth when Walcott knocked down Louis for the count of seven.

The gradation of the four points represents the margin of the fighter's superiority in that round.

Walcott's Hometowners: Protest 'Garden Robbery'

CAMDEN, N. J., Dec. 6 (AP)—Hometowners joined the Walcott family today in condemning Joe Louis' decision over Camden's Jersey Joe Walcott in last night's heavyweight title bout in Madison Square Garden.

"We all know Arnold won," said Walcott's wife as she bustled about her modest home. (The Arnold is Arnold Cream, Jr., which is Jersey Joe's real name.) "Arnold was disappointed naturally," she said, "but he's sure he won. And he knows he can beat Louis again. It was just a lousy decision."

That sentiment was echoed throughout this south Jersey city of 100,000. Men gathered on street corners and in taprooms, commenting on what one man called the "great Garden robbery."

"I knew Joe a long time," said a bartender in the taproom owned by Walcott's manager, Joe Webster. "And I know he can hit. At least he proved last night he could knock Louis down. He did it before, too, when he was a sparring partner for Louis in 1936 before the (Max) Schmeling fight."

Jersey Joe's six children (aged 11 to three) were in the living room with 25 others watching the fight last night via television. They are thought their daddy won—all but three-year-old Carol. She fell asleep.

"She was the only one that got any sleep before 5 o'clock this morning," commented a sister of Walcott's wife.

Jersey Joe's wife said she was in New York during the fight but did not witness the bout. She drove back to Camden early today and was sitting in the kitchen having coffee when Jersey Joe arrived shortly before 6 a. m.

"He was tired," she said, "but he looked swell. And his face was hardly marked. We've been getting telephone calls and have received cards and telegrams all day telling about the 'lousy' verdict."

"Not that I have anything against Louis. He's a swell guy, and he's one of the cleanest men living. Say, wasn't that a clean fight?"

She said her husband was born in Merchantville, N. J., on Jan. 31, 1914, making him 33 years old. "And he's got a birth certificate," she added. "I don't know where they got the idea Arnold is older than that. I guess it's because we have six children. But we were married young."

"Everybody knew Louis lost," she said. "Why, Sugar Ray Robinson, who's one of his best friends, left the ringside in the 11th round and went to Louis' dressing room and cried."

"Joe knew he lost too. Didn't he tell Arnold he was sorry. What else could he do?"

Protests 'Flood' Commissioner's Office

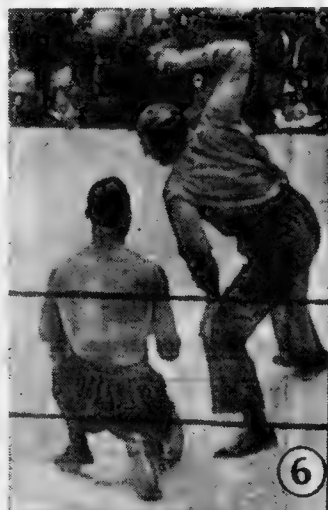

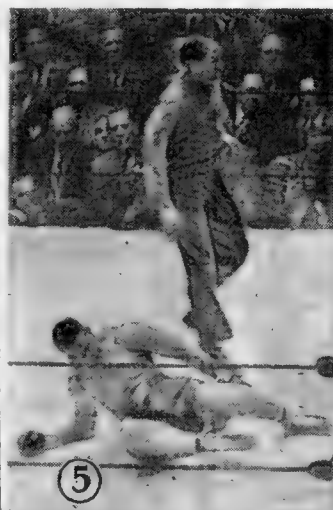

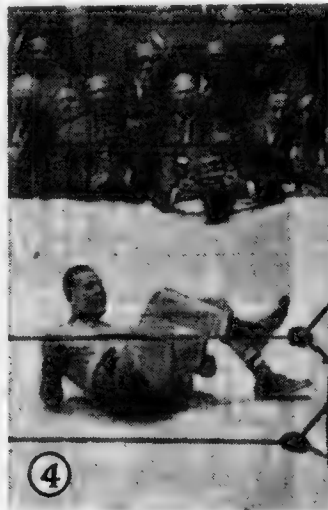

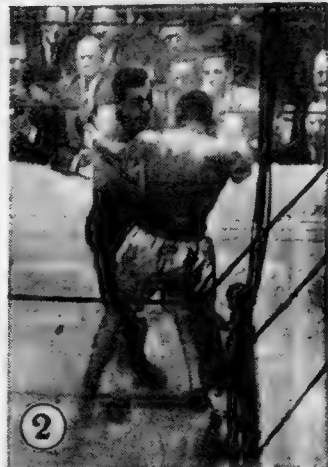

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—Protests from fans "flooded" the offices of State Athletic Commission today against the decision last night awarding Joe Louis the verdict over Challenger Jersey Joe Walcott in their 15-round heavyweight title match.

The two judges voted for Louis while Referee Ruby Goldstein ruled that Walcott was the victor. The title thus remained with Louis. Under the point system of scoring, a secondary method of determining a winner in this state, Walcott would have ended Louis' reign.

No official comment was available as the commission and employees were not certain that Eddie Eagan, the chairman, would be in his office today. The employees, however, said that never in their recollection had a fight decision brought such a swift avalanche of protests.

Not since the famed "long count" bout involving Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey of 20 years ago, has a title fight and its outcome been the cause of such a furor.

LOUIS HITS CANVAS—This Magic Eye sequence traces the fighting that resulted in Jersey Joe Walcott's fourth-round knockdown of Champion Joe Louis. Walcott cuts loose with a right that drops Louis to canvas. The champ rests on his back and then turns over on his knees. Next Referee Ruby Goldstein raises his hand for the count of seven. Louis then returned to his feet.

Walcott Champion --Sharkey

(Editor's Note: Jack Sharkey, former world heavyweight champion who was knocked out by Joe Louis in 1936, says Jersey Joe Walcott beat Louis for the title last night).

By JACK SHARKEY
Former World Heavyweight Champion

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (INS)—Jersey Joe Walcott is the world heavyweight champion today in my book.

Walcott counter-punched his way to a clean-cut decision over the heavyweight titleholder last night at Madison Sq. Garden, regardless of what the official score sheets show.

I was as surprised as Louis seemed to be when he was given the decision.

Louis was on the floor twice, he fumbled and let himself be sucked in for all kinds of off-balance maneuvers and never did get a chance to let go with his Sunday punch against a cute veteran who was vastly under-rated.

I thought Walcott made Louis foolish throughout the fight, and won at least nine of the rounds with a couple even. The latter were the ones in which Walcott let Louis take the play away from him and were actually productive of little action.

I am sure that many of the spectators gave Louis some rounds for aggressiveness—for walking in and chasing Walcott—when, as a matter of fact, Louis didn't throw a punch.

The champion spent most of the evening being whacked by counter-punches after missing his own leads.

There also will be some criticism over the way the fight was fought, with Walcott backing up most of the time and Louis pursuing him.

But don't forget this is not a hundreds years ago, when guys put on spikes and stood toe to toe on the turf, belting away at each other.

This is modern boxing, and to me the better boxer lost.

In my opinion, Louis should retire immediately.

I boxed him in 1936 and was knocked out in three rounds. I make no pretense of being a capable Louis foe at the time. I had been in retirement three years.

However, I know what kind of a fighter he was then, what kind of a fighter he was later at his peak before the war and, last night, saw what kind of a fighter he is now.

He's washed up.

Walcott Cried, But Louis Didn't Smile

By MAX KASE

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (INS)—Walcott cried, but Louis didn't smile. Those contrasting emotions, as the champion and challenger held court separately after their memorable fight, were the summation of all that had gone before.

Reporters were kept waiting a half hour outside Joe Louis' dressing room before the door was opened. When they finally were admitted, they were told Louis had probably broken his right hand in the fifth round.

Dr. Clarence Hogans, his personal physician, expressed doubt of a fracture, and his diagnosis was confirmed early this morning by X-ray photos. There is no break.

Louis, wearing a white towel for a cowl, sat on a bench, behind a rubbing table, before which was another bench that marked the last point of advance open to newspapermen. They stood gazing at him while Joe sat, head down, left eye puffed, looking the picture of dejection.

N. D. 13-Point Favorite But U. S. C. Is Confident

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—Two of the nation's college gridiron Goliaths—Notre Dame and Southern California—tangled in Los Angeles today in a belated regular season contest that drew most of the spotlight from the first big cluster of bowl games.

Four Bowl extravaganzas were on the day's card along with a riotful of other encounters but they all stood to be eclipsed by the star-spangled West Coast battle that matched America's No. 1 collegiate combine, the Irish, with the third-ranked and Rose Bowl-bound Trojans.

The post-season attractions were these:

Great Lakes Bowl at Cleveland—Kentucky vs. Villanova

Glass Bowl at Toledo, O.—New Hampshire vs. Toledo

Papoose Bowl at Oklahoma City—Wentworth Military Academy vs. Northeastern Oklahoma A. and Honolulu—Fresno State vs. University of Hawaii.

One of the bowl contestants, New Hampshire, placed an unblemished record on the line.

A crowd of 103,000 was expected to turn out at Los Angeles, where Notre Dame defended not only an unsullied escutcheon but also possibly the mythical national championship against the tough Pacific Coast champions, who have been tied once but not conquered.

Betting favored the Irish—by 13 points—but pre-game statements by rival coaches indicated a Notre Dame victory was far from a certainty.

Said Coach Jeff Cravath of Southern California: "We can win if we get a break and don't make any mistakes." Commented Irish Coach Frank Leahy Dolefully: "Everything points to a Southern California victory."

broke the silence with the statement:

"You can't win a fight by running. Joe fought like he was the challenger and the other guy was champion."

A photographer asked Louis to smile and he parried:

"I can't open my mouth no more."

That broke the ice. The first question was whether Louis was now convinced he had gone back. He replied:

"I told you before that I wasn't the fighter I was at 23."

Why did he start to crawl out of the ring before the decision was announced? Did he think he had lost?

"I figured I had won the fight," he said. "What was the use of staying around? I wanted to get out I was so mad."

Was Walcott a second-rate fighter? Pointing to himself, Louis said:

"I was."

He took a shower, and new questioners arrived. Now Joe went through the routine again, adding different expressions:

"I was disgusted. The reason I stepped into rights is that I was going in. If I'd stayed back it would have been a lousy fight... He's not the smartest fighter nor the trickiest I faced... I got hit hard a few times... I thought he had five or six good rounds... I won't be satisfied till I fight him again."

And how will the return bout come out? "History generally do repeat," Louis observed. "I do better in my second fight."

Walcott was in tears, drops trickling over the little cut below his right eye and causing a pinkish stream to glide down his cheek. When a lensman asked him to come on and give them a smile, he choked back a sob and replied:

"What's there to smile at?" But there was no bitter resentment, even when he said:

"I was robbed tonight without a pistol."

It's still a mystery whether Joe Louis was sorry the decision didn't go to Walcott or sorry he didn't knock Walcott out.

BROOKLYN, Dec. 6 (AP)—Leo Durocher's 1947 contract as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National Baseball League was extended for one season today, and Burt Shotton, who bossed the club last year when Durocher was suspended, was named supervisor of the club's 26 farm club managers.

The announcement ending the mystery regarding the Dodger manager was read by Branch Rickey, Jr., at a press conference called by his father, president of the Dodgers.

Neither Rickey, Sr., nor Durocher was present but Shotton, who took over the club last April when Durocher was suspended by Commissioner A. B. Chandler for conduct detrimental to baseball, was there.

"It is a nice old man's job," said Shotton, who was called from virtual retirement last spring and who now is 63. "I am going to check on the managers of the farm clubs—all 26 of them. The club has been planning such a position for the last two or three years," he added.

Rickey, Jr., said it was one of the most important jobs in the organization.

While no salary terms were announced, it was reported in the spring of 1947 that Durocher had signed for $50,000. The Dodgers never have announced whether he was paid while "sweating" out the ban in California.

Durocher, always a stormy petrel during his 20 years in the major leagues, was suspended April 9 by Commissioner A. B. Chandler for the entire 1947 season for "conduct detrimental to baseball."

The suspension was the direct result of hearings held in Sarasota and St. Petersburg, Fla., last March following charges brought by Larry MacPhail, former New York Yankees president, against Durocher, Rickey and Harold Parrott, the Dodgers' road secretary.

MacPhail's charges involved newspaper stories quoting Rickey and a daily column under Durocher's name in the Brooklyn Eagle in which it had been implied that the ex-Yankee president had entertained known gamblers in his box at a Havana exhibition game.

Rickey was quoted as saying: "Apparently there are rules for Durocher and other rules for the rest of baseball" in reference to a California conference between Chandler and Durocher last winter, in which Leo was told to avoid certain associates "for ease."

Then suddenly, in a completely unexpected move, Chandler suspended Durocher for the entire season, five days before the opener. MacPhail and the Yankees were fined $2000, the Brooklyn club was fined $2000, and Parrott was fined $500.

Stunned by the decision, made public while Durocher and his coaches were making final decisions at the end of spring training, Rickey labored several days before coming up with a manager.

A call to Buffalo to Joe McCarthy failed to lure the former Yankee manager, who since has signed with Boston, to return to the game on a one-year basis.

Finally April 18, after the club had won its first two games under Coach Clyde Sukeforth as acting manager, Rickey summoned the 63-year-old Shotton from his Bartow, Fla., home, blanning from the bench in street clothes and usually wearing a brown felt hat, the bespectacled veteran did an excellent job, winning the pennant and carrying the Yankees to a seven-game World Series before losing.

The Durocher vs. Shotton question has been a prime topic for conversation in the winter hot stove league as public opinion shifted between the two, or rather for or against Durocher. Never has there been any strong feeling about Shotton.

Durocher's supporters claimed he got a "raw deal" from the commissioner, and his enemies said "he got what was coming to him." There have been many episodes in his long big league career that have stirred up violent anti-Durocher and strong pro-Durocher groups.

Often fined for battles with the umpires, Durocher received much unfavorable publicity in connection with an alleged attack on John Christman, a fan at Ebbets Field, June 9, 1945. This subsequently was settled out of court.

Leo also was in the news all last winter in connection with events leading up to his marriage to screen star Laraine Day.

Rickey's managerial decision has been complicated by his doubt about public reaction to reappointment of Durocher. Last spring, before Durocher was suspended, the Catholic Youth Organization withdrew support from the Dodgers' knuckle gang. The CYO said it did not consider Durocher a proper example for the youth of America.

Earlier this week, the Brooklyn Knights of Columbus urged publicly that Durocher should not be rehired. They gave substantially the same reason as the CYO did last winter. Yesterday the CYO said it had no objections to Durocher's return.

Appointment Okay With Chandler

CLEVELAND, Dec. 6 (AP) "As far as the commissioner's office is concerned, Leo Durocher's return to baseball without prejudice and will be judged by his conduct in the future," said baseball commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler today.

At a news conference closely following the announcement in Brooklyn that Durocher was being returned as manager of the Dodgers, Chandler said "reckless and careless statements have been made that Durocher never would have been suspended unless Mr. (Branch) Rickey wanted him suspended. That is not true."

Asked whether he could relate specific reasons why Durocher was suspended last year, the commissioner replied "the grounds were sufficient and were known both to Durocher and Mr. Rickey," adding there had been "an accumulation of unpleasant incidents."

"Since the suspension was lifted, Leo Durocher has done nothing to aggravate or complicate his situation," said Chandler.

He said he had conferred with Rickey several times during the past year concerning Durocher's return to the managerial post, but that he had not seen or talked with the suspended manager.

The commissioner praised Burt Shotton, who took over the reins for the 1947 season, for doing a "wonderful job," and said "if he (Durocher) emulates the conduct of his predecessor he will have no cause to worry."

"The commissioner neither approves nor disapproves the appointment," said Chandler. "It is solely a matter between Mr. Durocher and the Brooklyn Baseball Club."

"The baseball fans of the country are fair," he continued, "and will accept Leo Durocher's return in true American style."

Chandler's present visit to Cleveland was for the purpose of rooting for the University of Kentucky in its Great Lakes bowl game today with Villanova.

Toledo Leads 14-0 Over New Hampshire

By BILL STEARNS

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 6—A low ceiling over Lake Erie 10,000 fans packed the stone annual Glass Bowl football game between New Hampshire and University of Toledo.

The field was muddy, despite a mantle of several tons of hay protecting it from a week's snow and rain, as Capt. Tony Wolodko of Toledo, injured in an earlier game with Youngstown, hobbled out on crutches to call the toss against Co-Captains Clay and Rainey of New Hampshire, both coaches elected to use mud cleats after preliminary excursions over the sloppy turf.

A colorful preliminary pageant was rocked by the bursting of aerial bombs, and climaxed when seven bands, representing the University of Toledo and six local high schools, massed for the playing of the National Anthem.

FIRST PERIOD

Kinsley Van Dey kicked off short for New Hampshire and Zuchowski, 230-pound tackle, came back for two yards to the Rockets 40. Dave Hamlar tried a quick opening hole from the T and advanced two yards. On the second play Lee Pete, Toledo passer, faded and threw an aerial bomb to Bill Gall on the New Hampshire ten which just dribbled off his fingers. On third down, Pete passed in the flat to Dave Hamlar for a first down at the Wildcat 45.

A first down pass to the goal line, Pete pitching, was knocked down by Carman Ragonese. On a handoff, Hamlar tried to skirt left end and was hit hard for a two yard loss. A short pass over the line, down the alley, was completed to Gall on the New Hampshire 27 for another first down. Chuck Hardy trying to swing wide to his right was smeared by Bob Mikszenas for a two-yard loss. A handoff to Hamlar gained a yard, but the Rockets were penalized for backfield in motion, back to the 34. An attempted flat pass was overthrown by Pete. Pete pitched a bullet pass to Hamilton for a 10-yard gain, making it fourth and about seven. A flat pass, Pete to Huston on the sideline, carried all the way to the 10 for another first down. Ehrhardt tried to slip into the line on a quick opening play, but was stopped. A handoff to Hammar, was stopped for no gain. Dick Huston, sweeping wide to his right, went over for the game's first touchdown.

Score: Toledo 6, New Hampshire 0.

John Shutt, of Scott High, Toledo, went in to kick the point after by placement.

Score: Toledo 7, New Hampshire 0.

It was Shutt who kicked off down to the 17-yard line where Jim Pritchard brought it back to the 27, and a 15-yard penalty was slapped on Toledo for unnecessary roughness, bringing the ball to the 42.

Ragonese swung wide on a handoff from Mather and picked up seven yards. Long was stopped as he tried to crash through on another handoff. A flip out to Ragonese was good for two yards, making it fourth down and one. Bruce Mather dropped back and batted a low kick to the seven. Huston bringing it back to his own 15. Dave Hamlar, the colored flash from Roanoke, Va., picked up three yards. On second down, Hamlar ran hard and low into the left side of his line for six yards, but Toledo was detected holding and was penalized to the five.

Passing from his end zone, Pete threw to the 18 where Carman Ragonese picked it off his shoe tops for the interception. Pritchard went around right end for nine. Mather tried to pass to the flat, but overthrew out of bounds. Fred Blake broke through on third down to hit Art Rafferty for a three yard loss on an attempted end run.

Pete whipped a bullet to Gall down the middle to the New Hampshire 48 as the period ended. Score: Toledo 7, New Hampshire 0.

SECOND PERIOD

Driving straight ahead, Emerson Cole, plowed for seven yards and on his second attempt picked up a first down on the N. H. 37.

A completed pass, Pete to Hammar in the flat, lost four yards as Ross came up to make the tackle. Al Sweska broke through on the next play and smeared Pete on the Toledo 40. Pete punted to Gage on the N. H. 20. Cole came up fast to drop Gage for a two yard loss. A pass, Mather to Mikszenas, was good for five yards, making it third and seven. A long pass intended for Mikszenas, was knocked down and Mather kicked out of bounds on the Toledo 43.

Hammar went for two on first down, but Foltz broke right up the middle on a trap for a first down, and an unnecessary roughness penalty carried Toledo all the way to the N. H. 17. Hammar went to his right for a scant yard, it was Huston again who exploded in the crucial spot, as the hometown boy, broke out of the tackle hole, and raced into the end zone. Shutt again converted.

Score: Toledo 14, New Hampshire 0.

Newton Whips Melrose In Garden Ice Opener

BOSTON GARDEN, Dec. 6—Newton High defeated Melrose, 3-2, and Belmont defeated Stoneham, 6-3, on the four-game Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League slate here this afternoon. Ronnie Butts was outstanding for Belmont, scoring three goals.

Newton-Melrose

Newton took the offensive from the start and failed to relinquish the advantage until Bill Fitzpatrick and Dan O'Keefe brought the puck to the Melrose area. O'Keefe came around the goal and fed a pass to Fitzpatrick who banged home the first marker of the first period.

Newton waited only 11 seconds after the start of the second period before adding another tally to put them in front, 2-0. Melrose drew the first penalty of the season when Carleton was detected checking and sent to the bastille. Coyle of Newton followed Carleton to the detention box, also for checking as the period ended.

John Groucutt, Melrose center, took the face-off and fired a long shot that was good for the first Melrose tally. Without wasting any time, Groucutt grabbed the puck again and evened the count at 2-2 with the period only 32 seconds old. Newton came back to life and brought the puck up the ice where "Jeep" Coyle banked home the winning goal.

Final score—Newton 3, Melrose 2.

Melrose—Groucutt (unassisted), 3:14.

Newton—Coyle (unassisted), 3:14.

Belmont-Stoneham

Belmont wasted no time in jumping to the lead when Ronnie Butts took a pass from Skippy Vigliore and put it in the nets. Stoneham came back in a flash when O'Grady took a Martin Manley pass and equalized the count. Norden added another for Stoneham shortly after with the aid of Marty Manley, but Belmont evened the count at 2-2 when Dick Young banged home the final marker for the period.

Belmont, with a one-point deficit, came to life as the second period got under way. Ronnie Butts and Skippy Vigliore clicked as a team twice in succession.

Brookline Scores on Lexington

BOSTON ARENA, Dec. 6—The Eastern Massachusetts Hockey League unveiled its 11th campaign here this afternoon before 2200 spectators.

The billing consisted of a quartet of games. Lexington was paired against Brookline in the first contest, Natick and Somerville followed, Malden, last year's champions, met Wakefield, while Dedham and Hudson completed the card.

BROOKLINE-LEXINGTON

First Period

Jack Sheehan, Brookline net tender, made numerous spectacular saves in the opening minutes of play. The Brookline spectators found themselves half way through the stanza and behind the clever passes of Phil Buckley, made repeated shots at Lexington's net. Ed Lenk put the wealthy towners out in front when he scored and got the drum on Bob Copp at 8:54. The period ended with Brookline pressing Lexington.

Score: Brookline 1, Lexington 0.

SECOND PERIOD

Brookline took a comfortable two-goal lead early in the period as Ed Lenk chalked up his second goal of the game. Bob Carroll passed to Lenk who displayed a brilliant bit of stick handling as he split the defense and poked the disc into the net. The Brookline lads added insult to injury in the closing stages of the frame when Tom Hines sank a 12-foot angle shot. The versatile Mr. Lenk was credited with the assist.

Brookline 3, Lexington 0.

Natick-Somerville

First Period

Art Miceli broke the ice at 4:50 when he took pass from Dick Clabby and drilled it home from

Max Hirsch, Jr., Brookline Leads Lexington Drowned in Canal

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 6 (AP)—Max Hirsch, Jr., son of the noted race horse trainer, was drowned today in the plunge of his automobile in a drainage canal near Hialeah race track.

Deputy Sheriff Claude High said the identification was positive. He said a passing motorist discovered the accident and called police. The car apparently had gone into the canal some hours earlier.

Young Hirsch was a noted trainer in his own right. His father, Max, Sr., trained some of the outstanding horses, including Assault.

eight feet out. Natick added another minute later when Jack Kelley took a feed from Dick Farley and slapped it into the strings.

Maryland Tackle III; May Miss 'Gator Bowl

BALTIMORE, Dec. 6 (AP)—Joe Drech, University of Maryland tackle who was taken to University Hospital yesterday was showing some improvement, hospital officials said, and might not have to undergo an appendectomy.

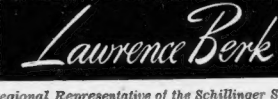

If he does, the operation will dim Maryland's hopes for victory Jan. 1 in the 'Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., against the University of Georgia.

TIGERS SIGN SCOUT

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 6 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers last night announced that Harlod Clift, former infielder with the Washington Senators and St. Louis Browns, had been signed as a scout for the Tigers.

with Viglirolo doing the 'passing and Butt banging home the tallies. Jack Butt then took over and with an assist from Barnes added another marker. Viglirolo ended the scoring for the period with the sixth Belmont tally on a pass from Dick Sylvia.

The Belmont power and finesse which was prevalent in the second chapter died out, so that Stoneham tightened up and held them scoreless in the final chapter. Belmont did likewise to Stoneham.

Final score: Belmont 6, Stoneham 3.

BELMONT—W. Young, c. Viglirolo; w. P. Butt; m. MacKenzie; r. Sylvia; e. Kelley.

STONEHAM—w. O'Grady; c. R. Manley; w. M. Manley; r. Norden; d. M. Manley; e. Simpson.

Belmont sp. res.—Barnes, March, Cole. Stoneham sp. res.—M. D'Annunzio, Wadsworth.

Overcome—Tears stream down face of Joe Walcott in dressing room at Madison Sq. Garden after he lost heavyweight championship fight to Joe Louis by a split decision. The ring veteran was wildly cheered by fight fans who booed the officials' decision. Walcott's trainer, Danny Florio, insists "Jersey Joe" won the bout.

Battered

Dropped

Louis hits the canvas in the 4th round under a slashing right-hander by Jersey Joe Walcott. He stayed there for a count of seven. It was his second trip to the floor.
